The Misinformation Susceptibility Test (MIST): a psychometrically validated measure

Randomised experiment testing a lateral reading intervention against a control condition (N = 876). Participants rated the accuracy of true and false news headlines and reported their sharing intentions; the intervention condition showed improved disce